Rice Market Report

Italy: still no decrease for round grain rice. Officially there are no more prices listed for Paddy Balilla and Centauro. For the Generico white rice we see fairly variable prices depending on the stock of the rice mill and also according to its need to sell.

Paddy prices for Carnaroli, Carnaroli types as well as Arborio are going down. The paddy Indica remains stable at €300/MT

We still do not have accurate data for the new crop, most of the farmers have finished sowing at the end of May, however some are still doing it. So one thing seems certain, it's that the new crop will arrive late this year, there should be no paddy available for purchase before mid-October.

By-product prices are highly dependent on the need to sell of rice mills. They sometimes have to adapt if they really want to sell, because the level of overseas broken rice is low.
