

Rice Market Report

Italy: There The general situation has not changed for almost a month. There is truly little demand, the market remains stable the price levels do not really change. Just like in March, some rice mills have more attractive prices but it is just to work, this is not related to a possible drop in the price of the raw material.

The farmers are in the fields, busy sowing, so they do not have much interest in selling.

We only had some information regarding the forecast for the new harvest:

- +15% Indica rice
- -20% Round rice
- +25% Arborio rice

The problem of lack of by-products persists so prices remain high. They are still extremely sought after and almost unobtainable.
