

Rice Market Report

Italy: The major problem this week is that we can't find a product. Not to mention the indica and round paddy, it is even worse for internal rice (Carnaroli, Arborio, Long A, etc.). Farmers are still not satisfied with paddy prices. This morning at the market they said that at less than €350 for the Centauro paddy, €340-350 for the Sole, €330 for the Indica, €450 for the Baldo and €450 for the St-Andrea, they do not sell not....

There is not much work for small and medium sized rice mills. Some try to buy paddy from each other, which usually happens at the end of the season and not at the beginning ...

There should still be approx. 30-40% of the crop to be harvested.

The by-products are in high demand but since there is not much work there is little availability.
