Rice Market Report

Italy: The weather has been nice in Italy these days, not very warm in the morning 3-4 degrees, but in the afternoon the temperature rises to 12 degrees. Farmers are busy harvesting rice. There is still about 10% to be cut.

Two major market players pushed up the price of Omega (generico) round paddy on Tuesday, buying a significant quantity at the price of €500/mt while the official market price was €450/mt. It is now no longer possible to hedge in round grain paddy below €500/mt.

Generally speaking, farmers only sell the lots that they cannot store or the poor quality lots that were affected by the October rains. They prefer to keep the most beautiful ones, for the time being.

There are no official figures yet, but we can already say that the quality and quantity, production per hectare, as well as the milling yield, will be less good for this new harvest than for the previous season.
