Rice Market Report

Italy: The price trend is increasing for all varieties except Indica paddy which remains stable for the moment. Although it is not increasing, it is not easy to acquire it. In general, farmers do not want to sell, or they only sell in small quantities

As already mentioned in early October, it is always very difficult to make prices for milled rice, because not all rice mills have the same energy costs. Rice mills buy on the open market and therefore not everyone has the same prices.

The by-products have also gone through a price increase. The rice mills are low working, so it's hard to get.
