Rice Market Report

Italy: The farmers are not willing to sell the paddy this week, except for the varieties Carnaroli types and Arborio/Volano. For all the others they prefer to wait. The reason is that there would not be as much paddy available as most people think. The demand would be the same or higher than this offer. Prices decreases are therefore very unlikely. Farmers are already trying to get €300/MT for the Indica paddy.

In addition, rumours say that they again expect a significant decrease in the area sown by 5-6%, so even less rice available for the new crop.

The situation is tense for paddy long A, especially on the Luna and the Dardo. The Middle East has already bought a lot and is still trying to cover itself for the months of May to August, but rice millers have great difficulty finding these varieties. They even think that there will be no more before the new harvest.

By-products have slightly increased..
