

Rice Market Report

Italy: It is very difficult to make business in Italy. Farmers have no desire to sell and are asking high prices especially on Arborio (€700 but with low yield 53-54 and at today's market €750 with a yield of 62) and the Carnaroli but on Round also.

It remains about 20% rice in the field and unfortunately it is round grain. They therefore have no storage problem and therefore no need to sell.

On top of that within a month they will receive the PAC, subsidy, so they do not need money either.

To give you an idea they are asking today the paddy price they were asking for the old crop at end February...

Prices indicated below for parboiled indica rice are the prices that should be asked seen paddy prices but in reality at these prices rice mills are not able to sell them. So in general if contracts are made it is at approx. €30 less than the rated prices.

Letters informing rice mills are already circulating that farmers want to get €350/MT for Indica paddy and €400/MT for long A paddy
