Rice Market Report

Italy: Following the Mortara market on Friday 20th October, it was reported to me that the market was blocked, that it was necessary to add +€50/mt per variety to the official prices and that despite this, the farmers were not selling.

This was confirmed at the Vercelli market yesterday, there was an increase of €50/mt on almost all varieties of paddy rice reported on the price list.

The varieties that are not currently increasing are paddy: Carnaroli and Carnaroli type, Arborio and Arborio type, Roma and Barone

It was specified on this same list "For the current week, the Commission notes limited trade in all varieties of paddy rice, with the exception of long B"

Around 80% of the new campaign has been harvested. If it doesn't rain within a week or two it will be finished. There is still no official information regarding yields.

When talking with the rice millers about the quality of the rice, we find everything beautiful and less beautiful. At first everything seemed beautiful, now a little less. But overall, the harvest is OK.
