Rice Market Report

Italy: This week the paddy varieties St-Andrea and similar as well as Gloria suffered an increase of €50/mt. For other varieties prices have remained stable since last week.

The price of by-products increased by €10/mt last week. It remained stable this week.

To date, there does not appear to be significant demand on the Italian rice market.

It was reported on the Vercelli market price list yesterday: “For the current week, the Commission notes limited trade for all varieties of paddy rice, with the exception of long B which is nominal”.

Initial availability statistics for different paddy rice varieties are still not available. We will therefore have to wait to see them to better understand how the market is evolving.
